

GOTHAM

DEEP DISH Letter from the East End

MAY 2005

A Very Hamptons Summer

[by Michael Braverman]

You may be master of the universe Monday through Friday in New York, but you still need help arranging weekends in the Hamptons. And not just any help—these three rising stars will make summer 2005 your season to shine.

Taste Maker

Christopher Tracy brings a stunningly youthful spirit to the traditional art of making wine. Under his direction, Channing Daughters Winery, in Bridgehampton, has become, arguably, the most astonishing and innovative winery in the state. A selection of white wines made from traditional Italian grapes grown in the Bridgehampton vineyards is unique to the area and probably the country. The tastes are spectacular, expressive of the grape, the soil, and the winemaker's skills. Quantities are very limited and demand keeps building, so when you are served one of these wines, be grateful. Tracy also conducts occasional wine classes where he shares his considerable knowledge. Call 631-537-7224.